Remembering our heroes: Veterans honored with Hancock County events

Coleman Avenue in Waveland came alive on Saturday for the annual Veterans Day parade. Veterans rode and marched down Coleman Avenue, along with the St. Stanislaus and Bay High bands, the Bay High Color Guard, the JROTC and more. The event culminated at the Veterans Memorial on Beach Boulevard.

Hancock County celebrated its military heroes last week with multiple Veterans Day events, including the annual parade in Waveland and ceremonies at VFW Post 4808 in Lakeshore, American Legion Post 139 in Bay St. Louis, American Legion Post

77 in Waveland, and a special Veterans Mass at Our Lady of the Gulf Church. “This is a huge turn-out today,” veteran Rick Soldinie said Saturday during Waveland’s parade. “This is really great.”

Community replaces roof for Waveland native and veteran

Several community members and organizations banded together in Waveland on Saturday to repair the roof of local U.S. Army veteran Emanuel Antoine — or, as he is more affectionately known, Uncle Spanky.

Antoine was drafted into the Army when he was 18, right out of high school in 1966.

He was stationed in K Town in Germany for 18 months.

“Our company stayed on alert to go to Vietnam, but we never did go,” he said.

He was a shop foreman for the Army.

Antoine said he served for two years and came back home to Waveland. He married Phyllis Johnson in 1967.

The pair had two children, Deanna and Emanuel Jr. They also have two grandchildren.

His daughter Deanna said her father was known as the neighborhood mechanic.

“They always came to him asking questions,” she said. “He was always willing to help them fix their cars. They still come to him for advice. That’s something he loves.”

Deanna said his grandson is now interested in becoming a machinery mechanic, something that makes his grandfather proud.

His roof was damaged during Hurricane Zeta and FEMA denied him assistance, his daughter said.

“We’ve been trying to maintain and get him a roof, but it’s been hard,” she said.

Antoine said his nephew, Michael Joseph, told him, “don’t worry about it, we’ll get you something.”

Antoine said he feels great about his new roof.

“When it rains, I got to put pots on the floor to catch the water,” he said. “This will mean a lot to me to get that roof fixed.”

When Deanna heard about Joseph’s and the community’s offer to build a new roof, she said she was overwhelmed.

“People that care about you that much to drop what they are doing to help really means something to me and my family,” she said.

Adam Lemay, who served in U.S. Army from 1990 to 1993 as an infantry soldier in combat, helped with the roof repair on Saturday.

“I would recommend every young man the age of 18 that has no career go to the military because it will definitely give you good guidance,” Lemay said. “It feels to great to help the community and help a veteran.”

Dwayne Acker served in the U.S. Navy for three years and served during Desert Shield/Desert Storm.

Acker said he joined the Navy for “change” in 1989 and that he “loved” it.

He said that Joseph called people in the neighborhood to action to fix Antoine’s roof.

“Family, community, and everybody helping,” Acker said.

Joseph said that several community organizations including Waveland Helping Hands Community Organization, Gulfside Assembly, Retrofit, Hancock Count NAACP, Krewe

Dumpster Guy also donated the use of a dumpster.

Any leftover materials will be donated to another senior citizen in need, he said. Joseph asked if anyone has any leftover roofing materials they are willing to donate to contact him at 832-265-7791.

“That’s our goal for now,” he said. “There are still too many blue tarps around here.

As of Sunday, Antoine has a brand new 25-year roof, Joseph said.

He said that it was important to also enlist the help of fellow veterans to honor Antoine.

“Everybody played a part, some donated shingles, some donated food,” he said.

About 30 people volunteered to repair the roof, he said.

“We just want to honor him (Antoine) for the veteran that he is,” Joseph said. “He has a special place in my life. I would watch him bend over backwards to make

BAY ARTISTS GROUP HONORS ONE OF ITS FOUNDERS WITH 27TH ANNUAL STUDIO OPEN HOUSE

Artist Regan Carney teaches pottery during last May's ArtsAlive celebration in Bay St. Louis.

BY GEOFF BELCHER
GENERAL MANAGER

The Bay Artists Co-Op will celebrate its 27th annual Studio Open House this weekend while honoring group co-founder Regan Carney.

“This year, we’re featuring Regan’s work,” Co-op member Melanie Mitchell said Monday, while also trying to raise funds for Carney, who is suffering from multiple medical issues.

Carney is a certified master ceramicist. She and fellow artists Chuck Lott, Cory Hammond, Susan Barnett, Andrea Smith, James Inabinet, Doug Niolet, Yancy Pogue and Chris Johnson founded the Co-Op — then known as “Artists Amok” — in 1995.

“This is the oldest active artists co-op in Mississippi,” Mitchell said.

“Regan Carney and the Bay Artists Co-Op is one of the foundational pillars of Bay St. Louis being a funky little art town,” Co-Op member Katrina Niolet said. “Without people like Regan Carney and Jerry Dixon and Alice Mose-ley, we would ben this cool little art place. ... For them to have been working to keep this place going for almost 30 years, it’s an amazing feat.”

Mitchell and her husband moved to the Bay three years ago, she said, and the Artists Co-Op helped her find her first friend here — Regan Carney.

While Carney is “feeling better” from her illness, Mitchell said, the co-op has started a GoFundMe account for her.

“Hello friends and art lovers, the Bay Artist’s Co-Op of Bay Saint Louis is reaching out to ask for financial support for our fellow artist, friend and founder, Regan Carney,” according to the GoFundMe introduction.

“We are saddened by the news that Regan is experiencing a health crisis.

Regan, a fine artist whose work encompasses functional and sculptural forms in clay, began what is now the oldest artist co-op in Mississipppi. She has been a fixture in our community as an artist and a teacher. We hope that together we can make a difference during this time of uncertainty and need. <https://www.regancarney.art/>.”

The Bay Artists Co-Op 27th annual Studio Open House and Sale is scheduled this Saturday, Nov. 19, from 10 a.m.-5 p.m.; and Sunday, Nov.

20, from 10 a.m.-3 p.m. The studio is located at 415 S. Necaise Ave. in Bay St. Louis.

In addition to Carney’s work, the open house will also feature works by Kit Barksdale, painting and mixed media; Nina Cork, ceramics and painting; Stephanie Daigle, lamp work and wearable art; Diana Doherty, sculpture; Danielle Inabinet, ceramics; Sharon Mathieu, healing arts; Melanie Mitchell, ceramics and fiber art; Katrina Niolet/BSL Prints — prints by local artists; and Michael Sustental, photography.

In addition, the event will feature guest artists Thomika Segar of La Terre Studios and The Immortal Oz.

LOCAL RESIDENT NAMED MS MUSIC TEACHER OF THE YEAR

BY GEOFF BELCHER
GENERAL MANAGER

Local music teacher Carol Mahler was recently named the Mississippi Music Teachers Association’s teacher of the year.

“I’m still kind of processing ... what an honor this is, to have received this award,” Mahler said Tuesday.

Mahler is the director of Hidden Acres Music School located in north Pass Christian, where she teaches piano, violin, and voice lessons.

She was nominated for the award by the Gulf Coast Music Teachers Association, which she serves as president.

She was also named this year as president of the Mississippi Music Teachers Association — which is also a great honor, she said.

At 70, she said, “I thought, ‘Well, this is the last window of time in my life that I would be able to give back to the Mississippi Music Teachers Association in a significant way.’ It will be a three-year term. It starts with president-elect, and I will be charged with applying for the MAC grant and organizing the MMTA conference. Then next year, I’ll be the actual president, and then the next year, the immediate past-president.

“This is the first time in 10 or 12 years that an independent music teacher has served as president, and I thought, yes, it’s time for an independent music teacher to step up.

“The professors of the various universities throughout Mississippi typically carry the load of this organization, and I’m very grateful to them, because the MMTA provides outlets for our students to perform and compete and it’s been the springboard for many of my students — my daughter Emily teaches, she is an adjunct with Hidden Acres, she teaches violin — her string students are also winning competitions through the Mississippi Music Teachers Association and ultimately through the Music Teachers National Association.

“We benefit greatly. it just challenges our students and motivates them. I’ve been surprised at how much these students enjoy participating in these events. Other people get a chance to see what they can do. I’ve had students who have been pursued by university professors, inviting them to come study at their institutions.”

Mahler is also actively involved with her students in the National Guild of Piano Teachers. She is a soloist for the Gulf Coast Messiah Chorus, and serves on its Board of Directors. As pianist for Bible Fellowship Church of Pass Christian, she also directs its adult and children’s choirs. The mother of three grown children, Carol resides in Pass Christian with veterinarian husband Dr. James Mahler, who owns and operates Bay Animal Clinic in Bay St. Louis.

Flag Retirement Program

Edmond Fahey Funeral Home works with local residents and the veterans services organizations to properly retire any U.S. flag that has reached the end of its service. Our program is designed to honor our national heroes, our military veterans, and to give dignity to our American Flag when it is no longer worthy of display. We strive to see that each veteran being cremated has a flag. There is no charge for this service to our veterans.

According to the United States code, Title 4, Chapter 1, Subsection 8: "The flag, when it is in such condition that it is no longer a fitting emblem for display, should be destroyed in a dignified way, preferably by burning."

If you would like to honor a deceased veteran by donating an aged or worn flag to be properly disposed of, you may do so by delivering the flags to our funeral home located on the corner of Necaise Avenue and Main Street.

"We pledge allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America and to the Republic for which it stands, one Nation under God, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all."

A community that honors its own

Last week, the country observed Veterans Day, a day to honor military veterans of the U.S. Armed Forces.

Locally, there was a parade in Waveland and several other commemorative events hosted throughout Hancock County.

As the granddaughter of veterans, I’m always reminded of how proud both my grandfathers were of their service.

Again, I’ve said it before, if I had been smarter when they were alive, I would have written down their stories.

STAFF COLUMN
by Cassandra Favre

But now, it’s almost like I’m honoring them by continuing to tell the stories of veterans who are still with us and the wonderful things the community does for them.

Take Emanuel Antoine or “Uncle Spanky” of Waveland for instance.

Last Saturday morning, I got to meet and talk to him for a bit while members of the community installed a much needed new roof on his home.

He is a sweet man and was very proud of the eagle plaque his nephew Michael Joseph gave him, as he brought it out with him for a photo opportunity.

If you don’t know by now, stories like these are my bread and butter. If I could just write feature stories all the time, I would absolutely just do that.

By being out at community events such as this, I get to meet the actual people in the community, not just the elected officials or the same people that are involved in all the community organizations.

I enjoy meeting the people who live here. The people who grew up in our small community who have always been there ready and willing to lend a helping hand.

The people who know which branch of the Favre tree I’m from just by looking at me.

It’s important for the community to know who I am so that I can be alerted to when there are goings-on such as the new roof.

And I appreciate Michael Joseph for always including me in the chain of communication, whether it be for the Constance Cares for Cancer parade or a new roof for Uncle Spanky.

Even though this past Saturday morning was rainy, cold, and dreary, I had a warm feeling in my heart when I saw how hard everyone was working to honor

Hancock History: Clermont Harbor

There are several communities in the past in Hancock County that have come and gone and might be considered ghost towns. One such beach village was Clermont Harbor. Some of the ‘old timers,’ like Russell Guerin, the historian, remember with fond memories childhood summers in Clermont Harbor. The Guerin Family played an important role in the story of Clermont Harbor, and Russell Guerin is one of the most significant historians of Hancock County.

There is a patch of terra firma forest land in Hancock County that is next to the shoreline of Lake Borgne affectionately known as Clermont Harbor. It is relatively high ground situated between two large marshes (Jackson Marsh and Otis Marsh) ideal for Indian and early pioneer settlers. Historically, it is east of Lakeshore or Bayou Caddy and west of Waveland.

The history of this place goes back over two centuries because pioneer settlers and planters bought the land and established plantations and farms. At the turn of the twentieth Century, a town was established as a business enterprise called Clermont City/ Clermont Harbor. This community survived adversities such as fire and hurricanes until 2005 when Hurricane Katrina ravished the Gulf Coast.

During the nineteenth Century, much of Hancock County was owned by several wealthy planters that raised cattle, grew crops such as cotton, and cut timber. From west to east along the coast, from the East Pearl River to Bay St.

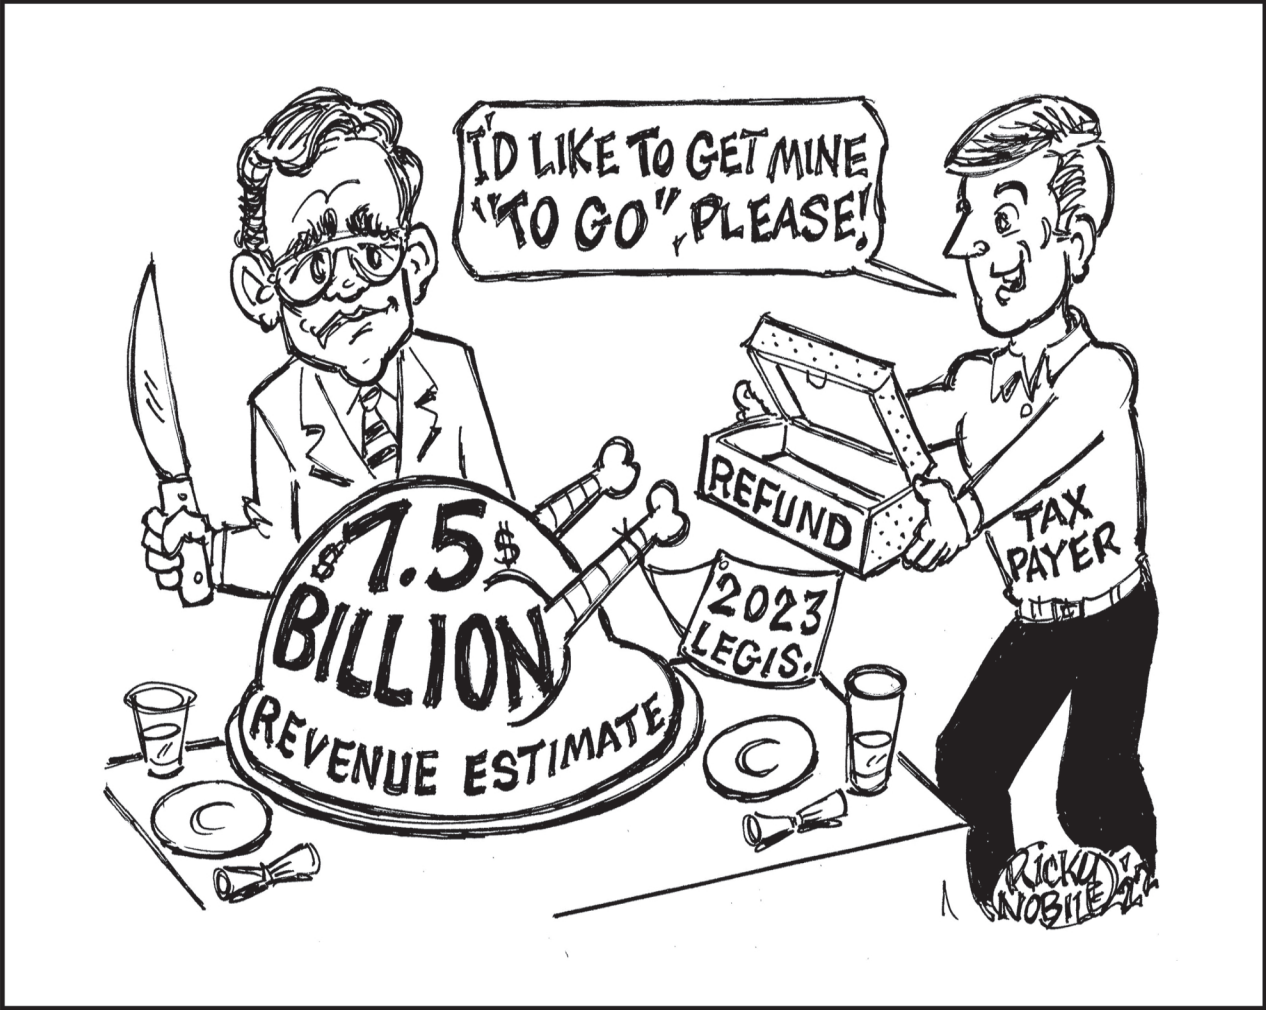

Louis (Shieldsboro) were the families of Dolby (Dolby’s Point), John Francis Hamtramck (J.F.H.) Claiborne (Laurel Wood), LaFontaine, Ladner (Ansley), Joor/loor (Point Clear), Asa Russ/Jackson (Sea Song), and Morin (Waveland). Thus, an upper echelon of wealthy planter families (as well as other businessmen entrepreneurs in the schooner carrying trade and timber industry) emerged and prospered in this area. These men and women were community boosters who served in public office and prudently managed the affairs of the county and promoted improvements like roads, bridges, waterway management, and construction of public buildings. The descendants of these key families over five generations represent an important and valuable bedrock foundation of Hancock County society today.

In our next column, the loor/Joor Family history will be presented. This family first established a plantation in this area. The origin of the name ‘Clermont’ will be revealed as well as the business enterprise to develop a beach resort destination.

Conservation Corner: Keep Records of Your Waterfowl Harvest

The Migratory Bird Harvest Information Program (HIP) is a method by which the Mississippi Department of Wildlife, Fisheries, and Parks (MDWFP) and the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service (USFWS) are developing reliable estimates of the migratory bird harvest. These estimates provide information to make sound decisions concerning hunting seasons, bag limits, and population management.

Be sure that you are included in the HIP process. For hunters who purchase a Sportsman’s license, the survey is included on the renewal notice. Completing that portion of the form will provide the information needed for HIP. You will receive your sportsman’s license with the word “Migratory” printed on it, indicating that you completed the required

HIP information.

For those migratory bird hunters who purchase other licenses, the agents where you purchase your license will have a form for you to complete. Once the form is complete, you will be given a stamp to attach to your license, or if you are exempt, keep the stamp with you while hunting. The agents will mail your completed form to the USFWS.

Names and addresses obtained from the HIP forms are provided to the USFWS, who randomly select hunters and ask them to provide information on the type and number of migratory birds they harvest. This information is then used to develop reliable estimates of the total harvest of all migratory birds throughout the country.

Hunters have been concerned about wildlife conservation long before it was trendy to do so. They have a long history of taxing themselves, paying license fees, buying stamps—all to ensure the health and vigor of wildlife populations—hunted and non-hunted alike. HIP is just another page in that history. It is simple good conservation. Lonnie Williamson, a friend of mine, a conservationist and a writer for Outdoor Life magazine, once said “There is no question that the new harvest survey program is absolutely essential, not only to conserve the migratory bird resource, but also to answer possible future challenges to hunting programs. It will take hunters only a few moments to give wildlife managers the information they need.”

It is essential to gather the best information possible about the factors

Guest Column
By James Cummins

affecting these populations. It is in the hunter’s best interest to have wildlife management decisions based on science. The HIP program, through the cooperation of hunters, will provide many of the facts needed to ensure that our migratory bird resources, and hunting, will be around for future generations.

Bay man arrested in fatal DUI case

ECHO STAFF

Officers of the Waveland Police Department last week arrested a Bay St. Louis man in a fatal accident on Hwy. 90.

James Clyde Holmes, Jr., 46, was charged with aggravated DUI and issued citations for driving while license suspended and no proof of insurance, Chief Michael Prendergast said in a press release issued Tuesday.

At around 10:37 p.m. Monday, “Waveland officers were dispatched to an accident near 714 Hwy. 90 for an accident with injuries,” Prendergast said. “Upon officers’ arrival, they observed two vehicles, a red GMC truck and a blue Chevrolet pickup, that were involved in the crash.”

When officers spoke with Holmes, Prendergast said, they “immediately could smell a strong odor of an intoxicating beverage emanating from his person. Mr. Holmes could not advise officers what had occurred regarding the accident.”

Officers determined from witness statements that “the GMC was slowing to turn onto Kiln-Waveland Cutoff Road when the Chevrolet rear-ended the GMC,” Prendergast said. “Officers were still conducting the accident investigation when they were notified that the male subject that was thrown from the truck succumbed to his injuries.”

Holmes was transported to the Hancock County Jail, Prendergast said. The victim’s identity has been withheld pending family notification, he said.

The charge against Holmes was upgraded to DUI causing death and DUI first offense, jail records show. He was released last James Clyde Holmes Jr.

Wednesday on a combined $25,500 in bonds.

The accident is still under investigation, Prendergast said.

this man, a pillar of the community, and a veteran.

While, yes, it is nice to honor our veterans on the prescribed day, it is important to honor and help them throughout the year as well.

That also means voting for officials who actually want to provide needed services for our veterans, not the ones who say they love veterans for the photo opportunity and campaign trail and then vote against measures that will benefit them.

I think that would be an awesome way for this country to pay respect to our veterans. It is absolutely disgusting to see them used as political pawns by our elected officials and then discarded when it comes to putting their money where their mouth is, so to speak.

Sure, parades, dinners, and other events are nice touches, but what about the rest of the days of the year? It would be nice to see the veterans get the honor, medical and mental health care, housing, and food for the other 364 days, as well.

Mr. Antoine needed a roof, something that would prevent him from having to put pots on the floor when it rains.

His community saw a need and came through for him. Now, with his new roof, he can rest at ease when the storms come.

It is something that will benefit him for years to come.

Thank you to the members of the Waveland community who volunteered their time, efforts, and supplies to Mr. Antoine and thank you, Michael Joseph, for always keeping me up to date on the goings ons.

I’ve always said, I’m not a mind reader, so if I don’t know something is going, I can’t come out to cover it.

And if you are a local veteran in need of assistance or know of a veteran who is, the Hancock Resource Center provides veteran services. Learn more about them at www.hancockhrcc.org or call 228-463-8887.

- JANET SAUCIER POWER
- SHAWN PUCHEU

Janet Saucier Power

Janet Saucier Power passed away peacefully at home on Sunday, November 13, 2022, surrounded by her family.

Born on December 31, 1946 in Bay St. Louis, MS, she is survived by her beloved children Stacey Ladner (Brett), Brent Anderson (Maureen), William Power III (Amor), Becky Power, and Amy Power (Mark); 11 grandchildren; and three great granddaughters, with whom she held a special bond. She is also survived by her sister Moana Ladner and niece Melissa Gallagher.

She was preceded in death by her mother Edna Puckett, her father Harold Saucier, her sisters Bobby Joe Saucier and Barbara Saucier, her grandson Brent David Anderson II and by her loving husband William Power, Jr.

In her youth, she loved spending summers at her cousin's farm in Kiln, MS, where she indulged in her love of nature and animals. Janet was always quick to bring a frog or a lizard to enjoy and her grandchildren treasured these moments. Upon graduation from Bay High School, Janet began her 30 year-long career with Hancock Bank. The Bank years allowed Janet to be the working example for her children but also to be home in time to receive them from school. It is also where she met her husband Bill, whom she was married to for 35 years until his passing last year. During their marriage, Janet and Bill enjoyed traveling the world with their children and friends. Janet's passion was always her family as she was their pillar of compassion and love. She will leave a big gap in their hearts and be sorely missed.

A celebration of Janet's life will be held at St. Clare Catholic Church, 236 South Beach Blvd, Waveland, MS, 39576, on Tuesday, November 22, 2022. Visitation will be open to the public at 10:00 a.m., and a memorial Mass will begin at 11:00 a.m., with a reception immediately following until 3:00p.m. when the family will hold a private burial.

The Mass will be live-streamed on St. Clare Catholic Church Facebook page for anyone who cannot attend in person. In lieu of flowers, the family has requested that Mass Intentions or charitable donations be made in Janet's honor to St. Clare Catholic Church.

Riemann Family Funeral Home, 141 Highway 90 Waveland served the family.

Shawn Pucheu

Family and friends of Shawn Pucheu will be gathering to honor and celebrate this wonderful man on Nov. 19, 2022.

Shawn touched many lives and many called him brother and he returned the honor and called them brother.

Shawn was a towboat captain on the Mississippi River for many years and followed in the footsteps of his father, grandfather, uncle, and cousin. Shawn taught quite a few to pilot the towboats and are themselves captains, his fellow mariners thought highly of him and his experience on the river.

Shawn would help any and all who asked, if he couldn't do it then "YouTube it." He could build quad copter drones and anything else he could think of, that along with his sense of humor made for a wonderful person. Shawn loved zipping around in his mini and on his motorcycle when he had time off from working.

Shawn talked to his family daily and never ended a conversation without saying "I love you." Shawn was so loved by all and will be missed until one day we will see each other again. He never met a stranger; I don't think he knew the meaning of that word. We should all learn from him.

Shawn joined a host of loved ones on the other side of the pearly gates. His grandparents Charles and Muriel Pucheu, Wilmer and Ruby Jenkins, brothers-in-law David Lekang and Kenneth Crawford. Then a few months later followed by his father-in-law Jack Lekang and cousin and godfather Edward Luc.

A devoted family man, Shawn leaves behind his soul mate and love Rita Lekang Pucheu, sons Shane A. Pucheu (Whitley) and Travis A. Pucheu. His mother Barbara Jenkins Pucheu and his father Carlus Pucheu (Peggy), mother-in-law Dorothy Barnes, two sisters Roxane Crawford and Carla Summers (Douglas). Step-sisters Dedra Kenum (Mike), Cathy McDowell (Carl), Anna Franklin, Christy Willie (Steven), and step-brother David Franklin (Laurie). Grandchildren Zaydin, Kylinn, and Axten Pucheu, sisters-in-laws Theresa Lekang and Mary Penton. Nephews, cousins, uncles and aunts.

Service will be at 1 p.m. at American Legion, 503 Waveland Ave., Waveland, MS 39576.

Clerk Kendra Necaise said last week. "It was steady all day. I'm happy to see so many voters, because we had such low voter turn-out in June" for the primaries.

With 99 percent of the precincts district-wide reporting on Tuesday evening, Republican candidate Ezell was the clear winner, with 122,128 votes to Democratic candidate Johnny Dupree's 39,292 and Libertarian candidate Alden Patrick Johnson's 3,416.

Ezell was the clear favorite in Hancock County, outpacing DuPree with 9,749 votes – about 79.90 percent – to DuPree's 2,249, or 18.43 percent. Johnson was a distant third with 199 votes, or .03 percent. Ezell will replace incumbent U.S. Rep. Steven Palazzo, whom he defeated in the primary.

In the only other contested race in Hancock County, the Circuit District 02, Place 1 Circuit Court Judge race, incumbent Judge Lisa P. Dodson won Coast-wide, with 31,596 votes – about 62 percent – to challenger Bay St. Louis Municipal Judge Stephen Maggio's 19,504, or about 38 percent.

However, Hancock voters heavily favored Maggio, with 6,116 voters – about 55.19 percent – casting their ballots for him, while 4,920 voters cast theirs for Dodson.

In the special nonpartisan judicial election for Court of Appeals District 5, Position 2, incumbent Judge Joel Smith ran unopposed; as did Judge Jim Persons in the Chancery Court District 08, Place 1 seat; Judge Jennifer Schloegel in Chancery Court District 08, Place 2; Judge Margaret Alfonso in Chancery District 08, Place 3; and Judge Carter Bise in Chancery District 08, Place 4.

In Circuit Court District 02, Place 2, incumbent Judge Chris Schmidt also ran unopposed; as did Judge Larry Bourgeois in Circuit Court District 02, Place 3; and Judge Randi Persich Mueller in Circuit District 02, Place 4.

Hancock County Court Judge S. Trent Favre also ran unopposed, as did Election Commissioner 4 Donna L. Henry and School Board District 1 member Ray C. Ladner, Jr.

Reeves announces $8M in RESTORE funds for Hancock County

SEA COAST ECHO

Gov. Tate Reeves on Thursday announced 15 new RESTORE Act projects totaling $49 million for the Gulf Coast, including more than $8 million for three separate Hancock County projects.

"I remain fully committed to ensuring that every dollar meant for our Gulf Coast, stays on our Gulf Coast," Reeves at a press conference Thursday. "Mississippi's economy is thriving in every region across our state, and this includes our Gulf Coast. These 15 new projects that I approved will strengthen our Coastal economy and better the quality of life for those living there. I'm grateful to the Governor's Gulf Coast Advisory Committee and the Mississippi Department of Environmental Quality for their continued efforts to make our state the best in the nation to live, work, and raise a family."

"There is a purpose and strategy to our restoration work," said Mississippi Department of Environmental Quality (MDEQ) Executive Director Chris Wells. "From ecological restoration and conservation, to infrastructure, to workforce development and tourism, there are many factors at play in each project. We are excited for today's announcement of projects which directs our work towards continued and purposeful restoration in Mississippi."

These 15 projects announced for 2022 are funded through the RESTORE Act and were recommended to Governor Reeves by the Governor's Gulf Coast Advisory Committee for his consideration and selection.

Once implemented, these projects will join the total of more than $795 million already being spent by the state of Mississippi through MDEQ on restoration projects across the Coast.

The Hancock County projects include:

- Pearl River Community College Hancock Aviation Aerospace Workforce Academy ($2.09 million) — purchase equipment to support the establishment of PRCC Aerospace Workforce Academy.

The Kiln Utility District and Fire District Water and Sewer Expansion Project ($3.0 million) — expand water and sewer to support increased development.

Port Bienville Railroad Intermodal Expansion ($3.3 million) — construction of a 7-track classification yard and the addition of a truck to rail intermodal facility expansion.

Another project included in the grant is the St. Stanislaus and Ocean Springs Environmental Education program, with $566,500 earmarked to enhance environmental science programs related to marine ecosystem education.

"Port Bienville is an intermodal logistics hub for 16 companies with global reach," Bill Cotter, Hancock County Port and Harbor Executive Director, said Thursday. "Port Bienville Short Line Railroad is the engine powering economic development at the port. We process over 8,000 loaded rail cars a year. This grant will help us construct a classification yard and intermodal facility which will make the railroad more efficient and increase safety. We appreciate the continued support Gov. Reeves, the Gulf Coast Advisory Committee and our Hancock County delegation for making the project possible."

NASA Stennis Space Center, Rocket Lab Cut Ribbon on New Tenant Agreement

SEA COAST ECHO

NASA's Stennis Space Center and Rocket Lab USA cut the ribbon Nov. 4 on a new agreement for the aerospace company to locate its engine test complex at the rocket propulsion site near Bay St. Louis, Mississippi.

NASA, Rocket Lab, and key elected officials gathered in the Stennis Test Complex for an official ribbon-cutting ceremony to mark launch of the new 10-year agreement. Rocket Lab expects to make a substantial capital investment in the project in upcoming years and also create dozens of jobs for the surrounding area.

"We are pleased that Rocket Lab selected Stennis Space Center for development of its new test complex," Stennis Space Center Director Rick Gilbrech said. "With finalization of this agreement, we look forward to working with Rocket Lab as it develops and moves forward in achieving its space goals. This represents an exciting opportunity not only for Stennis but also for the Gulf Coast region and the entire state of Mississippi."

With the new agreement, the A-3 Test Stand and about 24 surrounding acres at Stennis will be incorporated into the Archimedes Test Complex. Archimedes is Rocket Lab's new liquid oxygen and liquid methane rocket engine that will power its large, reusable Neutron rocket.

Rocket Lab will have exclusive access to use and develop the A-3 Test Stand area, including associated propellant barge docks and buildings. The initial 10-year agreement includes an option to extend an additional 10 years.

The Mississippi Development Authority is providing assistance for Rocket Lab to develop the new site and to relocate and install needed equipment.

"It was only a few weeks ago when we announced Stennis as the location of our Archimedes Test Complex and we're already fast at work to get the site up and running to deliver Neutron," said Peter Beck, founder and CEO of Rocket Lab. "Thanks to our partnership with NASA and the state of Mississippi, we can begin to develop the existing infrastructure and test stand at Stennis to fast-track Neutron's first launch. We look forward to breathing fire in the great state of Mississippi."

Rocket Lab, founded in 2006, is headquartered in Long Beach, California. It already builds and flies Electron rockets for small satellite launches. Its new Neutron rocket is designed as the world's first carbon-composite rocket to deliver large spacecraft to low-Earth orbit and to support a sustained human presence in space. It will be powered by Rocket Lab's reusable Archimedes engines and an advanced upper stage for complex satellite deployments.

"This agreement with Rocket Lab is part of an ongoing process to attract space companies to Stennis and create economic opportunities for the region, said Duane Armstrong, manager of the Stennis Strategic Business Development Office. "The partnership and the infrastructure already in place at Stennis will dramatically reduce the time it takes Rocket Lab to develop their new engines and create this new launch vehicle, which will provide services to NASA, other parts of the federal government, and industry."

Rocket Lab expects to begin construction in the Archimedes Test Complex at Stennis to build two newly built horizontal engine test cells for single engine testing. As testing of the Archimedes engine gets underway, Rocket Lab also envisions building an additional test cell with the ability to test individual engine components.

The Mystery of Prayer

By REV. C. GERALD RICHARDSON, D. MIN

C. GERALD RICHARDSON, D. MIN.

The congregation which my wife and I regularly attend offers a simple mid-week opportunity which is called a “healing service”. It is a quiet, brief, experience which lasts no more than a half hour. It contains scripture, intercessory prayers, a very short homily, the Eucharist (Holy Communion), I try to arrive a few minutes early each week in order to spend a few moments in silent meditation in the sanctuary. It has become one of the favorite times in my schedule.

Prayer is a mysterious experience. The Christian gospels in the New Testament indicate that Jesus spent a significant amount of time in prayerful reflection. He would turn aside from the crowds to restore himself, and sometimes, to ask for guidance for significant moments in his life. Such activity seems to have been an important part of his spiritual journey. One of the most well-known, and significant, of these moments is his time in the Garden of Gethsemane shortly before his arrest and death on the cross. It is here that he is recorded to have prayed that “this cup may pass” from him, but nevertheless, that the will of God might be accomplished.

Many people can identify with such an experience. We can often relate to times in our lives when we have asked God for direction, or for some particular outcome in a crisis in our lives.

This raises questions about the nature of prayer. What are we doing when we pray? Is the goal to change the mind of God? Are we seeking to inform God about the circumstances which we are not sure that the almighty understands? Are we hoping, or do we believe, that our laments and longings alter results in critical areas in our lives? Or, is the goal to simply place ourselves, our emotions, our hopes and dreams, into a place of comfort and peace? These questions, and probably others, reside at the forefront of our thinking about prayer.

One piece of wisdom regarding prayer might be that the most important part of it is that it places us into the presence of the mystery of the divine. It hardly seems wise or effective to seek to advise God. (Even if we believed that such a thing could be possible.) An important part of the experience is that of seeking peace in our lives. We already know (and surely God knows) that we are sinners. We also know that the God of our faith is one of grace and forgiveness. What is needed in most of our lives is assurance that the peace of God which passes all understanding rests upon us. Prayerful meditation is a path to that assurance. It is vital to trust that we are not alone in this life. There is a mysterious and hopeful presence in our lives which sustains us in the dark times, brings us joy in the good times, and above all, is with us at all times.

I will continue to attend the mid-week healing service at our church. It is a time of gratitude, which is the heart and soul of all prayer, and it brings peace to life.

consecutive terms for a total of 28 years, making him the longest serving Chancery Clerk in Hancock County history. He surpasses A.G. “Red” Favre who held the office for 20 years.

The family’s legacy of public service began with Kellar’s father, Dolph Kellar, who was elected to the Hancock County School Board in 1949 and served as a member for 13 years. The elder Kellar then was elected to the Board of Supervisors and served for 28 years, retiring in December 1995, on the day Tim Kellar was first sworn in as Chancery Clerk. “I signed my father’s last payroll check issued by the county after some 41 years in public service,” Tim Kellar said. He still has that check as a keepsake.

Kellar said he decided to retire from office “after much prayer and deliberation. I feel like it’s been my calling in life to serve the public.”

Starting with his first term in January 1996, Kellar’s duties have included serving as county treasurer and auditor and clerk to the county supervisors, chancery court judges and as county land record clerk.

In addition to his Chancery Clerk responsibilities for his first 14 years in office, Kellar was county administrator during the years that included Hurricane Katrina cleanup and recovery. Those additional duties included serving as the county’s public information officer.

Kellar is a fourth generation native of Hancock County and is a lifelong resident. He and his wife, Jean, have two sons, Jordan and Evan. Evan and his wife, Malory, have a daughter, Emmi.

Kellar’s civic involvement has included memberships in the Jaycees, Lion’s Club, Rotary Club, Hancock Historical Society, Sons of the American Legion, Wave-land Civic Organization, National Wild Turkey Federation, Ducks Unlimited, Bay St. Louis Masonic Lodge, Hancock County Chamber of Commerce, Hancock County Leadership, the Mississippi Association of County Administrators and past president of the Mississippi Chancery Clerks’ Association.

Kellar said he has always looked forward to going to work every day and will miss working with his deputy clerks and colleagues and serving the public from his corner office in the historic courthouse “that has stood so long.”

“I’ve been fortunate to serve alongside the supervisors and other officials who have made my job so enjoyable and allowed me to be part of the most positive growth in the history of Hancock County,” he said, citing the post-Katrina recovery, Stennis Space Center’s activities and the Port and Harbor Commission’s economic development successes. “It has been my honor to serve Hancock County.”

Kellar said over the years he has simplified county government operations with the public in mind, allowing residents to be a part of the process. “I always looked to make county government more user-friendly and not so intimidating for the general public,” he said. “We worked toward transparency, allowing the public to be part of the operation of the county.”

Kellar said he looks forward to spending more time with his family in retirement and staying involved and active in the community. “I would like to continue all the great relationships I’ve made in and around Hancock County. That’s my goal,” he said.

gress passed in 2021.

ARPA established the Coronavirus State Fiscal Recovery Fund and the the Coronavirus Local Fiscal Recovery Fund.

“(T)hrough the Fiscal Recovery Funds, Congress provided State, local, and Tribal governments with significant resources to respond to the COVID-19 public health emergency and its economic impacts through four categories of eligible uses,” according to the agreement, including funds that may be used to — among public health projects — “to make necessary investments in water, sewer or broadband infrastructure.”

The city already had about $3.5 million in ARPA funds for the project, City Clerk Mike Reso said, and the county’s investment brings the total to around $4.2 million.

“The state will match those funds dollar-for-dollar,” Reso said, bringing the total to $8.4 million, which will fully fund the project without affecting the city’s budget.

The Bay St. Louis project consists of videoing and rehabilitating and/or repairing sewer lines throughout the city limits.

The city has procured engineering services for ARPA related projects and selected Chiniche Engineering & Surveying (JJC PA LLC) as the engineer of records for the project.

Also on Tuesday, the council shot down a proposal by Gulfport-based H2O Innovation for outsourcing operations and maintenance of city streets and drainage lines due to the cost.

The council hosted a workshop meeting last Monday to hear a proposal it had requested from H2O on the matter.

According to a H2O Senior Vice-President Robert J. Knesal’s report to Favre, the company sought to be a “trusted utility partner, responsible for delivering cost effective operations and maintenance services.”

Under the proposal, H2O would have been responsible for management, oeration and maintenance of the streets and drainage divisions for the city.

The total cost would have been $989,298 annually.

“That’s about $300,000 more than the city had budgeted,” Reso said.

Council members determined that for now, it would be better to focus on recruiting at the city’s public works department, and perhaps look at out-sourcing again at a later date.

In other action last week, the city approved a motion to name the Bayou Lacroix boat launch the Harold Hamrick Bayou Lacroix boat launch in memory of Harold Hamrick.

Hamrick, who died in February 2020, was of a co-owner of the Bayou LaCroix Marina “The Cave” for 25 years.

THE SEA COAST ECHO

Rocks stopped by Lions 30-21

BY JOSEPH W. GEX, II
STAFF WRITER

The Saint Stanislaus Rock-A-Chaws' football season ended in Raleigh Friday night with a 30-21 loss to the Lions in the second round of the Class 3A state playoffs.

SSC stepped between the lines and took on the top-ranked team in Class 3A and the state's overall #1-ranked recruit Superman (Suntarine Perkins).

Despite the loss and the play of Perkins on both sides of the ball, the Rocks went toe-to-toe with the Lions until late in the fourth quarter when Raleigh punched the go-ahead score into the endzone.

Chandler Chapman kept the score close with heroics of his own rushing 19 times for 163 yards and two touchdowns.

The Rocks (7-5) started the game on offense and pushed the ball into Lions territory before an interception at the Lions' 20 yard line ended the drive.

The Rock defense stiffened led by Jacob Bradford and forced a punt by Raleigh.

The Rocks ended up having to punt back to Raleigh after a muffed punt at the Raleigh 40 yard line. The Rocks pushed the ball to the Lions' 22 yard line where they settled for a field goal attempt. The kick was blocked by a defensive line that broke through and the Lions' recovered the ball at their own 28 yard line.

Two plays later, Javarious Walker broke free for a 60-yard scoring run with 11:50 left in the first half. The two-point conversion by Perkins was good making the score 8-0.

The Rocks went to the air on the ensuing drive with Hudson Osborne completing four consecutive passes. He hit Ethan Galloway for 8 yards, Levi Green for 9 and 4 yards, and Brady Logan for 11 yards. On the fifth attempt, he was picked off by Perkins who 'leaped a tall building in a single bound' at the Lion 18 yard line.

Spencer Cornell and Chesley Rhodes led a stingy defensive effort by the Rocks that forced a three-and-out by the Lions.

SSC responded with a scoring drive of their own. Chapman carried for gains of 19 and 13 yards before a 15-yard scoring run put the Rocks on the board with 6:38 left in the first half. The two-point conversion attempt fell short leaving the score 8-6.

The Rocks and the Lions traded possessions and when the ball came back to SSC, the Rocks needed just two plays to find the endzone. Osborne hooked up with Logan for 19 yards and a personal foul penalty brought the Rocks even closer. Then, Osborne lofted a pass to Jackson Dicerbo who went up between two defenders and came down with an improbable 33-yard touchdown reception with 1:12 left in the first half. The two-point conversion fell short leaving the score 12-8 at intermission.

Coming out of half-time, the Lions wasted little time in taking the lead as they went 80 yards in eight plays highlighted by a 27-yard scoring aerial from Jacob Bowen to Jay Owen's with 8:18 left in the third quarter. The PAT by Perkins was good making the score 15-12.

The teams traded possessions before the Rocks took over at their own 42 yard line. Osborne connected with Green for consecutive receptions of 6 and 9 yards before Chapman took a handful for 22 yards to the Lions 21 yard line. Three plays later, Evan Noel converted a 37-yard field to tie the score at 15-15 with 3:32 left in the third quarter.

Raleigh answered with Perkins on a 76-yard buck sweep with 2:15 left in the third quarter. The two-point conversion by Walker made the score 23-15.

The teams traded possessions before SSC got the ball at their own 19 yard line. It took Chandler just one play to break free around the left end of the line and 81 yards later celebrating the longest touchdown run and rush of the season for SSC with 10:50

Two "Super" players - SSC running back Chandler Chapman (#11) prepares to deliver a stiff arm to Raleigh's Suntarine Perkins (#4). Chapman, the Rocks' single-season rushing leader with 1,831 yards, rushed 19 times for 163 yards and 2 touchdowns in the Rocks' 30-21 Class 3A second round state playoff loss to the Raleigh Lions and Mississippi's #1-rated recruit Suntarine Perkins.

left in the game. The two-point conversion failed leaving the score 23-21.

The Lions took the ensuing kickoff to their 16 yard line. On the first play, Walker ripped off 21 yards followed by a one-yard gain by Perkins. Rhodes threw Kyvryn Moncrief for a five-yard loss. The Lions backed themselves up further with a false start penalty. Facing a third-and 19 situation, Bowen dropped back and connected with Perkins for a 37-yard leaping catch for a first down at the SSC 30. Perkins took the pitch the distance for a 30-yard score on the next play with 8:05 left to play. Perkins' PAT was good making the score 30-21.

The Lions held the Rocks and ran the clock out with a 12-play drive.

SSC head coach Nate Encraper commented, "When we play a team like Raleigh, we have to play perfect football. They are a talented and well-coached team. We did not play perfect but we went on the road and went toe-to-toe with the best team in Mississippi deep into the fourth quarter. I am proud of effort tonight and how we have developed over the course of the season. Now, we have to get our young guys maturing into roles for next season and be ready to play physical football. We are excited about what we can put on the field next year."

Osborne was 13-for-30 for 138 yards and a touchdown. Chapman finished the season with a school record 1,831 yards rushing and 17 rushing touchdowns. Green led the receiver-swith 5 catches for 48 yards.

On defense, the Rocks were led by Bradford, who was limited in the fourth quarter, with 12 stops. He ends his junior year with 112 tackles including 30 tackles for loss, 9.5 sacks, and 14 hurries. Cornell added 11 stops while Rhodes had 9 tackles.

Raleigh moves on to play Wesson in the Class 3A state quarter-finals. The Rocks are now waiting to begin the 2023 season with kickoff slated 282 days from now on August 25.

Hawks end season with 42-7 loss at Brandon

BY DWAYNE BREMER

The Hancock Hawks’ season came to a close Friday when they were eliminated from the play offs by the Brandon Bulldogs, 42-7.

The Hawks played well early, but were overwhelmed by the third-ranked Bulldogs.

Hancock trailed 14-0 late in the first half when they. marched into Bulldog territory. The drive, however, stalled at the 30.

With a minute left, Brandon executed a perfect drive to score with seconds left.

The point-after made the score 21-0. The Hawks were able to get on the scoreboard in the fourth quarter when Zach Gullung scored a one-yard run, but it was too little, too late.

Gullung rushed for more than 100 yards in the game. He finished the season with more than 1,300 yards rushing.

The Hawks finished the season with a 6-6 record, their best since 2017.

The Hawks finished the season 6-6.

“Our guys got top see what big time football in a great environment was about,” head Coach Neil Lollar said. “I’m proud of everyone. It was a good season. I told the seniors that they laid the groundwork for future success. We have a good core of juniors coming back, so we are excited about next year and beyond.”

selves and for each other. We started out really, really well offensively, and that gave us a big lead. I would’ve liked to seen us finish around the rim a little better, but it will come. We must continue to work on playing at the pace we want to play and not let our opponent dictate that.”

The Hawks (6-0) picked up wins over St. Martin and Long Beach with Jackson Corey scoring 15 points, 10 rebounds, and 5 assists against St. Martin and 13 points, 12 rebounds, and 2 assists against Long Beach.

Hancock head coach Colin Goley stated after the St. Martin game, “Early on in the game, St. Martin guarded well and controlled the tempo. In the second period, we were able to switch the tempo to our favor. We are receiving tremendous leadership from our seniors - Jackson Corey and Braden Walshire. Our younger players are following their lead and giving their all every minute they get on the floor.”

SAINT STANISLAUS ROCK-A-CHAWS

The Rocks (2-2) played just one game last week against PRC which ended as 48-33 loss. Paxton DeBardeleben scored 21 points and Henry Williams added 10 points.

SSC head coach Daniel Graves stated, “We were missing all out height tonight which hurt us inside. Early in the season, it has been a puzzle to get all the pieces on the floor. We have a long way to go but you only grow in tough situations. I am very proud of Paxton as he has never been asked to do so much in a game setting. He understands that this is all for the team. What we are doing now will pay dividends for us later in the season.”
